RAGGED RACING. Starter Ferguson Upsets the Talent

Outsiders Win.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—Red Root and Cracker Jack, backed from 100 to 1 off the boards, very nearly furnished two tremendous sensations at Bay District today, but they had to be content with second money, although both appeared to be winning at one time. Yankee Doodle was the only winning favorite, second choices and an outsider dividing honors.

Starter Ferguson was in very poor form again today. In the fourth race he sent the horses off in two separate divisions, one bunch being ten lengths behind the leaders, and for a time it looked as if two races were being run. Harry Griffin, the crack jockey who was thrown from Long Lady yesterday, is in the hospital suffering from a broken shoulder-blade. His injuries will probably incapacitate him from further riding this season. Green Morris withdrew his string of eight horses from the Bay District track today because of alleged unfair rulings against him. The weather was clear, track fast and attendance fair.

DISAVOWS THE ACT. BERLIN, Jan. 2.—It is reported here in official circles that the German gov-ernment has been informed by the govrnment of Great Britain that the latter strongly disavows the invasion of the Transvaal republic by the British South African Company's forces and has sent the most positive orders to Cape Town and to the officers concerned for the chartered company's represen tatives to withdraw from the Transvaal erritory immediately.

A dispatch from Pretoria announce that the British agent there has tele-graphed the Governor of Cape Colony that the commanding general has posttive information that 800 Bechuanaland roops with six Maxim guns and other annon, and carrying the British flag, cannon, and carrying the British flag, have arrived near Rustenberg and are on the march to Johannesburg. The dispatch added that the president of the Transval republic regards this invasion as a serious violation of the convention with Great Britain and hopes that immediate steps will be taken to stop any further edvance of the intrudera, as he cannot allow his country's rights to be violated in this manner.

The Governor of Cape Colony reports: "I declare that if the report is true, the steps were taken without my sanction or previous knowledge. I immediately wired my disapproval of the action and directed the troopers to retire without delay."

(BY 'FELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Jan. 2 .- (Special Dispatch.) Marriage has been arranged between Mrs. Alva Vanderbilt and Oliver H. P. Belmont. This announce ment was quietly circulated today among intimate friends of the parties. It is probable the wedding will take place within a few days, and im-mediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Belmont will sail for Hurope.

Mrs. Vanderbilt was the first woman in New York to introduce an orchestra into her house and give private concerts, such as were only attempted by musical societies in great public halls.
Then followed her celebrated fancy ball, than which nothing more splen didly conceived and carried out had ever been given or attempted in New York. When the Marble House in Newhangings and objets d'art to harmon e with her design for a complete ouis XIV chateau. It was her mother wit that obtained a concession of designs and models from the French gov-ernment, which had never been granted before. It was she who guided and directed the architect's hand in every move toward the complete embellish-ment of what has been called the "noblest temple of art in America."
Oliver H. P. Belmont is the youngest of the living sons of that famous politician, financier and man of the world, the late August Belmont. He is named for his great uncle, Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, the hero of Lake Etle Oliver adopted the sea as a profession, was educated at Annapolis, and served long enough to discover that he might be an old man before obtaining com-mand of a ship. His love of adventure caused him to resign. Then followed his marriage with Miss Sarah Whiting. WHITE MAN.

Thought the United States Law Were no Good So They Agreed to Find a Victim - Revolting

KANSAS CITY (Mo...) Jan. 2.-A dis-T., says that a revolting tale of Indian butchery is embodied in a confession made there today by two Chortaw boys. Last evening the dead body of Leo Crum, a white man 24 years old, was found on the bank of the Kla-michi River, two miles north of Autlers. The body had been scalped and other

Will McAlester, a Choctaw youth 17 year old, was arrested on suspicion. He denied the charge, but 'old the offacers that his half-bro'her, Teylor Hickman, aged 12, and Thomas Davis, aged 16, had told him that they had killed Crum. These boys were at once arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Brown, Teday they confersed and shal Brown. Today they confessed, and told the details of the murder. They stated that they had believed that the United States laws were no good, and had agreed between themselves to kill a white man, Last Saturday afternoon they met Crum in a secluded spot and decided he should be their victim.

into his breast. As Crum fell, he pulled an empty pistol from his pocket, and the Indians were frightened away. Later in the day they started back again, but met some men and turned away. On Monday Davis went back again. He found a bloody trail over which the dying man had crawled to the river bank. He followed the trail, and came across Crum, still alive. The young Choctaw fell upon the dying Crum with a knife and finished his devilish crime. He cut his victim's throat, scalped him, cut his ears off, gouged his eyes out and cut and slashed his face in a hortible manner. in a horrible manner. The Choctaw then took $40 in coin on the body and the dead man's pistol and went away. This confession has aroused tremen-dous excitement here, and, though the prisoners are only boys, talk of lynch-ing is general.

SOLDIERS' CANTEENS. Exempt from Interference by Loca or State Authorities MILWAUKEE, (Wis.,) Jan. 2.important point involving the interfer-ence of local or State authorities with the National Soldiers' Home canteens was settled by Judge Seaman today, when he filed his decision in the Kelley jurisdiction case. Judge Seaman holds jurisdiction case. Judge Seaman holds that the lands and property employed for the home constitute instrumentalities for the execution of the powers of the general government and are, therefore, exempt from such control of the State as would defeat or impair their use for these purposes. The management and officers are agencies of the United States and as such are exempt from any interference by the authorities or courts of the State in their control, discipline or government of the home. Then, after citing authorities in support of the position, Judge Seaman continued: "As such instrumentalities of the government, the property is excontinued: "As such instrumentalities of the government, the property is exempted from taxation by the State or local authorities and upon the same ground that regulations established thereon under the sovereign power are not subject to control or interference by the municipality or State regarding licenses for the sale of liquor and like restrictions. For such exemption tis unnecessary to obtain a cession of jurisdiction by the State."

It will be seen that Lord Salisbury interprets Earl Granville's agreement as covering the arbitration of the boundary dispute. Lord Salisbury in his reply to Secretary Olney's letter on November 28, denied that such a treaty was practically agreed to.

Postmaster-General Wilson Takes Action Toward Expediting Them.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—An important order for the expedition of mails across the Mexican border was issued today by Postmaster-General Wilson, providing for the first exchange of the mails of railway postoffices of the United States and Mexico. This does away with the stopping of the mails at the postoffices of both countries along the line and effects a saving of twenty-four hours, and more in some instances. The mail allowed to pass without interference is restricted to unregistered letters, postal cards and periodical publications, and all postage is required to be prepaid in full.

A similar plan has been in operation between this country and Canada, practically since the establishment of the railway mail service.

Great Britain Was Once Ready to Arbitrate.

The Work of the Commission to Be Conducted as it Sees Fit.

The Transvaal Incident Helping to Furnish a Parallel-Sea-

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) LONDON, Jan. 3.—(By Atlantic Ca-ble.) The special correspondent of the Chronicle telegraphs to his paper this morning the official correspondence hitherto unpublished between the governments of Great Britain and Venezuela during the period of November, 1840, when Sir Robert Schomburg was appointed commissioner by the British government to survey the western ter-ritory of British Guiana, and in April, 1842, when England finally removed the boundary posts which he had set at various points in that territory to form the so-called Schomburg line. It appears from the correspondence that on October 5, 1841, Senor Fortuque, Venezuelan Minister in London, wrote to Lord Aberdeen, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, expressing surprise at the erection of a British sentry-box upon Venezuelan territory and urging the necessity of entering upon a treaty of boundary as a previous step to the fixation of limits. Lord Aberdeen replied to this on October 21, saying he had received Sir Robert Sch

Senor Fortuque replied on November 18, asserting that Schomburg doubtless overstepped his instructions by plant-ing at a point at the mouth of the Oring at a point at the mouth of the Ori-noco several posts bearing the Queen's initials and had raised the British flag initials and had raised the British flag at the same place with a show of armed force. He also performed several other acts of "dominion and government."

Lord Aberdeen broke the silence on December 11, confirming the Schomburg line as a mere preliminary measure and objecting to the removal of the posts, "which afford the only tangible nears by which Great Britan is prepared to discuss the boundary."

Senor Fortuque on January 10, 1842, regrets that he is obliged to again insist upon the removal of the posts and predicts that their non-removal will give rise to disorders. He points to the example of Venezuela and the United States of Colembia, which first made a boundary treaty and then delimited the territory.

States of Colembia, which first made a boundary treaty and then delimited the territory.

The Chronicle's correspondent then quotes Lord Salisbury's dispatch to Secretary Olney to the effect that these posts were removed on the distinct understanding that Great Britain did not thereby abandon her claims to that position, and in this connection he gives two documents from the Governor of British Guiana, dated Demarara, on March 12, 1842, and one from O'Leary. British Consul at Caracas, dated April 8, 1842, both expressing the hope that all ground of remonstrance will be removed by Great Britain's concession of the removal of the Schomburg landmarks from Barima and elsewhere.

The correspondent says: "Observe that there is no word indicating the condition asserted by Lord Salisbury, If the foregoing documents are genuine, and their source excludes any suspicion to the contrary, then the Schomburg line is proved worthless as a basis for any territorial claims."

SPRINGING RECORDS ON 'EM. NEW YORK, Jan. 2.-A special from Vashington, D. C., quotes a letter addressed by Lord Granville, the then British Foreign Minister, to the repre-sentative of the Venezuelan governsentative of the Venezuelan government, acquiescing in the sugrestion already made by that representative for including in a pending treaty a clause providing for the arbitration of any and all differences between the two governments. This letter proves the statement made by the London Chronicle today, which has already been cabled to the Associated Press, to the effect that Earl Granville had girtually concluded a treaty with Venezuela in 1885, containing an arbitration clause that covered the Venezuelan boundary disnute. This letter, which is in the possession of the State Department, was addressed to Guzman Blanco.

When Lord Salisbury came into nower upon the overthrow of the Gladstone government, he disavowed his predecessor's action in a note to Guzman Blanco dated July 17 of the same vear, in which he said: "Questions might arise, such as those involving the title of the British crown to territory or other sovereign rights which Her Majesty's government could not pledge itself beforehand to refer to arbitration."

tion."

It will be seen that Lord Salisbury interprets Earl Granville's agreement as covering the arbitration of the boundary dispute. Lord Salisbury in his reply to Secretary Olney's letter on November 28, denied that such a treaty was practically agreed to.

AN UNITED ANY HELD COMMISSION.

WashinnGron, Jan. 2.—It is authortratively stated in behalf of the administration that the Venezuelan commission will be absolute master of its own procedure, fixing the time and place of its meetings and determining for itself whether or not it shall visit foreign countries, what class of evidence may be taken into consideration and how interested governments may be represented before the tribunal.

This independence of action is deemed necessary to secure to the commission's findings that degree of weight and respect among other nations that can be attained only through the knowledge that the body is free from restraint or obligation to the United States government, which will occupy a status of exact neutral'ty in the proceedings.

The State Department will lend such assistance as may be required to facilitate the work of the commission in procuring iransportation for it on a United in supplying any records in its possession that may be called for, but it will

A STATE DINNER

President and Mrs. Cleveland Entertain the Cabinet.

MASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The first state dinner of the year at the White House to the Cabinet was given by President and Mrs. Cleveland tonight. The mansion was appropriately decorated for the occasion with a profusion of cut flowers and potted plants, while in the vestibule in front of the main sition of taking sides as to the merits of the controversy between Great Britain and Venezuela; it will not undertake to present the Venezuela case, nor will it even endeavor to offset any evidence that leans toward the Brilish contention. Therefore the various suggestions that have been made to the department by individuals in this country as to where evidence can be secured have been ignored. Such matter is regarded as proper for the consideration of the commission, but is not for the State Department. It is pointed out that is this astitude the department is exactly consistent with the course in the past. From the beginning of the negotiations with Great Britain touching the Venezuelan boundary, the United States government has expressly refrained from committing itself to a recognition of the justice of Venezuela's chalm, and has Hmitted itself strictly to the contention that there was a proper matter for settlement by arbitration. Moreover, the attitude which the department has assumed toward the commission itself is regarded as a sufficient ter for settlement by arbitration. Moneover, the attitude which the department has assumed toward the commission itself is regarded as a sufficient negative to the assumption in Europe that the United States government proposes constituting itself the arbitrator in this dispute, for the commission will be as independent of the United States government as it will be of any other government as it will be of any other government.

Justice Brewer, who heads the Venezuela Commission, was seen at his residence today by a representative of the Associated Press. The Justice had not received official notification of his appointment and in the absence of this he was in some doubt as to his course in accepting the unofficial announcement and communicating with the executive ommunicating with the executive rities. Until this is done he is loat and communicating with the executive authorities, Until this is done he is loath to discuss the commission's plans. In response to inquiries, Justice Brewer Sa'd he had no doubt the sessions of the commission would be held in Washington, as it was the most accessible point and, moreover, much of the documentary evidence, maps, etc., which would initiate the inquiry, were here.

For the present the Justice will continue his work on the Supreme bench, as it is felt that the preliminaries of the organization and the assembling of evidence may continue through the present month, leaving the more serious work of examination by the commission to begin about February I, when the Supreme Court takes a month's recess. This will permit the Justice to hear pending cases and thereafter give his exclusive time to the commission. If, however, the commission's labors begin earlier than anticipated, Justice Brewer is ready at any time to join his associates.

Justice Brewer, when asked if the Justice Brewer, when asked if the commission was likely to go abroad to pursue its investigation, said that it might, but that the State Department had prepared certain features of evi-dence regarded as essential and which would serve as a groundwork for the investigation. In all events, doubties, this would be gone over, and the com-mission would determine what further teps were required to ascertain the acts. It might be that Venezuela and ingland would be asked to present their

England would be asked to present their respective cases. Certainly, in a question of this character, there would be the desire for the fullest information from all available sources.

When this documentary evidence was all in hand the question might then arise as to the desirability of verifying certain features of it by a personal inspection of the original of the documents in the archives of Spain, Holland or other countries. This would involve a trip abroad, and there was the possibility that it might become desirable personally to view the loosility of contention along the Gulana line. Justice Brewer illustrated this by referring to some of the boundary contests over some of the boundary contests over Mexican land grants, a number of ghich have been decided by him, including the Maxwell land-grant case.

The Justice says he has not given a thought to the executive staff of the commission and as yet no names have been suggested. The Justice does not feel that the appearance of his mame at the head of the list as announced con-the head of the list as announced con-fers any suggestion that he will initiate the work of the body, as the commis-sion itself may select its chairman.

The present expectation is that the first meeting of the Venezuela bound-ary commission will be at the State Department next Saturday. All the members of the body, with the excep-tion of Commissioner White, have sig-nified their ability to be here by that time. The latter will not reach the dity before Tuesday and there is a pos-sibility that the first meeting may be deferred until that day, although this is not likely. There are a number of questions arising in connection with the work of the body, such as the se-lection of quarters, etc., besides other the work of the body, such as the se-lection of quarters, etc., besides other prellminary matters, not affecting vitally the questions at issue, that can be passed upon by the majority of the commissioners. The members have not yet received their commissions and hence it is not positively known who will be the chairman, although the presumption is that Justice Brewer, having been the first named, will have that honor. THEIR WEALTH IN DANGER. NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce today the Committee on Foreign Commerce and Revenue Laws, consisting of Francis B. Thurber, Gustay H. Schwab, Stephen W. Carey and William H. Robertson reported the following resolutions:

merce of the State of New York, being profoundly impressed with the gravity of the situation, which threatens the peace now and happily so long existing between Great Britain and the United States, appeals to the common-sense and the common interests of the people of both countries to avert the calamity of war by a resort to arbitration or other friendly negotiations which so often have been found to be a sufficient and satisfactory mode of settling international disputes to which both governments stand committed by profession, precedent and the humanitarian spirit of the sige.

Accompanying the resolution was an address in the same tenor as the resolution which recited many instances in which controversies between the United States and foreign nations had been settled by arbitration. THE "DEADLY PARALLEL."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The per-sonnel of the Venezuelan commission was commended today by members of the House who take particular inter-est in international matters, regardless of party affiliations. The gentlemen selected were considered entirely com-selected were considered entirely competent to conduct what the President in his message expressed a wish for, a judicial examination of the evidence relating to the boundary.

In speaking of the Venezuelan question, an authority upon international affairs pointed out that the present hostilities in the Transvaal furnish a direct and most opportune parallel to the South American dispute. The note of the German government to Great Britain requesting an explanation of Jameson's expedition into the Boers' territory and protesting against it, he thought, would tend to fortify arguments, of the United States in justification of its action regarding the Venezuelan boundary. The conditions of the two cases are not unlike. The Transvaal is nominally an independent republic, and Germany does not claim to maintain a protectorate over it any more than the United States does over Venezuela, yet Germany assumes a right to interfere to check British aggressions.

Nor can the German government claim that its own safety is in any way menaced by any step which the English might take against the Boers; it can only assert a right to interfere on the ground that its interests are involved, which is thought by many to be the only tenable grounds upon which his government can base its right to be considered a party to the dispute between Venezuela and a British dependency. There is no doubt that proceedings in the Transvaal will have an interest for this government which they interest for this government which they otherwise would not have because of their application to the Venezuelan

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES. WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—(Special Dispatch.) The Arizona Statchood bill will become a law within the next sixty days. At least this is the hope of the friends of that Territory. It is gen-erally conceded that the Senate favors Arizona's admission and the only trouble feared is from the House. If the measure is reported from the com-mittee within the near future, the opmittee within the near ruture, the op-position in the House will not amount to much. the so-called "silver influence" that will prove dangerous to Arizona's chances of admission, if the matter is delayed too long. At the time the House passed the bond bill last week there appeared to be some, though not a great deal, of fear among gold men that when it came back from the Senate it would have a silver rider.

Now that the bill has passed, it is the general belief that the bill cannot possibly get out of the Senate without a silver amendment. When it does put in an appearance some lively times are sure to follow. It is to get the Statehood bill out of the way before this orisis comes that the Arizona men must es that the Arizona men must

THOSE SYNDICATE MANIPULATIONS They Must Result in Enormous Losses to the Government.

ON TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The World to-morrow will print a long editorial ar-ticle reviewing the bond situation, declaring that the syndicate manipula-tions not only must result in enormous loss to the government, but will lead to a great national scandal, the moral effect of which upon the country will be more disastrous than any financial loss could possibly be. It calls upon President Cleveland to reject abso-lutely the proposition of the syndicate, and to leave the result to the people. There can be no doubt, it assures him, that the people, once awakened to the that the people, once awakened to the peril of the situation, will pour out their gold from the banks and vaults to recoup the $40,000,000 deficiency in reserve. As an earnest of its confidence in this, and to show its sincerity the World offers to lead with $1,000,000 subscription to an issue of 3 per cent, bonds or of 1 per cent, bonds on a 3 per cent, bonds basis, Mr. Pulitzer is firmly convinced that the instant uprising of public senti-ment is necessary to avert a national calamity, and hopes that the great papers of the country will simultaneous with the World, or as nearly so as pos sible, undertake in their own localities that awakening of sentiment which is needed to encourage and enable the President to reject the bond deal. to take $1,000,000 worth of 3-per-cent, basis, in case President Cleveland refuses the syndicate contract with J. P.

"If you make your appeal to the peo-ple, they will quickly respond. There is $88,000,000 of gold in New York, to say nothing of the hoards of other cities. needs if you show confidence in the people. So sure are we of this that the World now offers to head the list with a subscription of $1,000,000 on its own account. It will take that amount of 3 per cent bonds, or it will take $1,000,000 of 4 per cents on a 3 per cent. basis, namely, at about 1.17, and it will promptly find and furnish the gold with which to pay for them. The whole country would respond with alacrity.

"It would not require a week, it would hardly require a day to sell $50,000,000 of bonds to the people at a fair price. Why sell them to a syndicate at an unfair price, and with a secrecy which excites suspicion and distrust? Why should you not appeal to the patriotism of the rich as in the case of the rich and poor alike? Why should you not invite a great national demonstration of devotion to the welfare of the

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The Senate Finance Committee adjourned at 12:30 o'clock until tomorrow. No action was taken, and no vote had. The bond bill was discussed, but the tariff bill was not taken up. Senators White and Wolcott and Vest were not present, so the free-silver men and anti-silver men were tied. After the regular meeting of the committee the Republican members held a conference, so also did the Democrats. Senator Jones of Nevada went with the Democrats, as the conference was considered a silver conference more than anything else. The silver men unanimously decided to insist upon an amendment in the nature of an entire substitute, providing for the free coinage of silver and the elimination of all authority to issue bonds. Senator Jones of Arkansas was delegated to prepare a measure in accordance with these views to be submitted to the full meeting of the committee as soon as it can be completed. There is hope that the bill can receive final consideration at the hands of the committee. The Democratic and silver members concluded their conference before 2 o'clock, but the Republicans and anti-free-silver-coinage members continued theirs during the afternoon. It is quite definitely determined that they will make a minority report. The majority of the Republicans will oppose the reporting of the substitute bill tomorrow, but will ask that the report be post-poned until Tuesday next. They consider the second section of the bill somewhat ambiguous, and they favor that it be so altered as to restrict the issuance of certificates of indebtodness to $50,000,000 at one time. Senator Sherman suggested a change in the provision for the retirement of the greenbacks, but the suggestion did not meet with general favor, and it was not insisted upon.

The Republicans, in their conference, after the Democrats withdrew, also discussed the tariff bill at length. They had before them all the amendments which had been offered in the Senate, and devoted themselves especially to considering the feasibility of so amending the bill as to insure its passage. It was suggested that some of the western Republicans, led by Senator Mitchell of Oregon, would demand the restoration of the full McKinley duty on wool, and the Senator concluded to investigate the probability of strengthening the measure by complying with this demand. They gave like consideration to the known wishes of others, and, without deciding upon any changes, concluded to get all the light they could obtain before proceeding to any changes, concluded to get all the light they could obtain before proceeding to any changes, concluded to get all the light they will present, it is understood that the wording in a general way will follow that of the amendment offered by Senator Jones of Arkansas and the resolution introduced by Senator Vest. The first section of the Jones amendment will be changed so as to provide for absolute free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1.

Another provision of the substitute will look to the issuance of silver cervilia.

Another provision of the substitute will look to the issuance of silver certificates on the silver dollars to be coined under the first section. WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Senator El-kins will try to call up in the Senate tomorrow his resolution offered earlier in the week to prevent the President from selling United States bonds by contract or at private sale, and re-quiring proposals to be invited and bonds sold to the highest bidder. The discussion of the resolution was shut off when first introduced by objection from one of the Senators, and Elkins will make an effort to have it adopted.

men began to tear away the wreckage around them with pickaxes and saws. Albert Steinmeyer was taken out and soon after the crushed and dead body of Frank Neihaus was necured.

The most horrible incident of the fire was the suffering of Steinmeyer, while the firemen were removing the debris which held him pinned down in the wreck. Both of his legs were fastened by the timbers and a heavy iron ring encircled his neck, while the fire was eating into his flesh. He suffered the most horrible agony as the rescuers pulled away at the splintered timbers and twisted iron-work. Dr. A. L. Boyce, who happened to be passing, was called on and he crawled into the wreckage and administered a hypodermic injection of morphine to the sufferer. When he was finally rescued, Streinmeyer was bleeding from a hundred wounds, was burned in many places and badly crushed.

Manager Moore of the Levison & Blythe Company, stated that Joe Kavarick was missing and that his body must be in the wreck. The firemen again returned to the wreckage and cleared away a great portion of it without finding the body. The flames soon broke out afresh and it was decided to abandon the search until the wreckage was soaked with water. The hock-and-ladder were then transferred to the rear of the Excelsior Wire and Iron Works, where fifteen men were at work. How many escaped can not be learned.

Albert Mellier, Paul Hauptner, L. Lay, Charlie Axon and Norman McArihur, the foreman, were reported missing. The firemen soon cleared away the debris, and after thirty minutes' work two bodies were brought to light. They were horribly mangled and burned, and were taken to the morque, where they were identified as Albert Mellier and Paul Hauptner.

The boys were early risers. They were beginning to stir in their room. Walter smelled something like cotton burning. He opened their bedroom door. Smoke rushed in and the boys man out. They broke for the head of the front stairs. Smoke from the fire below, coming up from the open stairway from the reception room, drove them back. They fied through a hall to a landing on the back stairway where the four jumped through a window to the ground. Allen, a six-year-old boy, could not, it would seem, climb up to the window sill. The boys called to him to jump. He ran back into the hall, met his father, mother and the two house servants and they ran into the room from which the servant had jumped to the ground. Mrs. Hibbard evidently went back to the guest-room to get her little girl from the crib, as the mother ward her child and not far from it.

Mr. Hibbard, the two hady guests, and Allen died right under the window from which the servant jumped. They were either suffocated and unable to jump by the time they got there, or in the fadies were afraid to jump, and Hibbard gallantly perished with them while doing his utmost to save them. The two laddes had bed-clothing about their heads as a defense against smoke, showing that while all perished they seem to have made an effort to escape. IN THE LAW'S EYE.

Mrs. Davidson is Arraigned for Blackmail.

Will Not Make a Fight in the Police Court.

An Oregon Newspaper-man's Rough Experience—A Strike of Shoc-workers—Chinese Leave Tacoma.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2. — Mrs. Mary A Davidson is still in the city prison, and has given up all hope of securing ball. She spends her time in reading the Bible, and in entertaining visitors, who call on her in great num-visitors, who call on her in great numbers daily.

"I shall soon be in a position to do prison reform work," she said today.
"I am studying the lower types of humanity as I find them here. So interested have I become in the work that I really have not thought much of my own case. I do not fear the result, however. My trial will be prolific of interesting developments."

teresting developments."

Mrs. Davidson expects to be held for trial in the Superior Court, and will make her fight, not in the Police Court, make her fight, not in the Police Court, but in the higher court.

In the Police Court this afternoon Mrs. Davidson was arraigned on the charge of blackmail. The courtroom was crowded with men and women prominent in the church. Neither Dr. Brown nor Miss, Overman was present during the brief proceedings. As the prosecution announced that one of its most important witnesses, Mrs. Tunnel, could not be found, the case went over until this evening.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—The private gossip which the Rev. C. O. Brown made public scandal by his charge of blackmail against Mrs. Davidson is developing new separations averaged. blackmail against Mrs. Davidson is developing new sensations every day. The blackmail which it is alleged Mrs. M. A. Stockton practiced on the reverend gentleman has carried the affair into circles much wider than that of the First Congregational Church. The figures of women which are generally hidden in the shadows of the city are coming into the light. The names of men of the highest standing in the community are being used in the case, and the uninitiated are seeing the maand the uninitiated are seeing the ma chinery with which blackmailers con spire and men are trapped, even be spire and men are trapped, even be-fore the altars at which they worship. Many new facts have been learned of the recent movements of the four wothe recent movements of the four wo-men who occupy such prominent places in the scandal. A great many of the letters which Miss Mattle Overman wrote to Mrs. Davidson have now bewrote to Mrs. Davidson have now become public property and throw much light upon the relations between the two women. Mrs. Davidson has at last been positively identified as the swindler of Lynn. Frank R. Whitworth, who knows her well, has gone to the police and identified her as the ex-convict of the Bay State. Thomas J. Bass tells how Mrs. Stockton tried to blackmail him, and others tell how Lloyd Tevis tried to befriend Mrs. Stockton.

Lloyd Tevis tried to befriend Mrs.
Stockton.

In the mase of new sensations Mrs.
Martha Tunnell appears with more prominence than ever before. Her meeting with the Rev. Dr. Brown and Miss Overman in a South-side lodging-house on December 21 even gives a touch of mystery to the affair. In the midst of it all the trustees of the church are doing nothing, and the police are preparing for the prosecution of Mrs.
Davidson. With Mrs. Stockton the police have nothing to do. She has produced a scandal, but not a prosecution.
Mrs. Stockton has an exceptionally interesting personality. She prefers to be known as Mrs. Fannle Stockton.
She came to this city from the North.
She is a divorced woman, but joined the First Congregational Church as a widow, bringing credentials from a church in Port Angeles. Nearly two years ago she nearly brought scandal to the church, but a little diplomacy saved it from notoriety. It was all over a Turkish tea given by Mrs.
Frank French. Mrs. Stockton was invilted before Mrs. French learned certain charges which placed Mrs. Stockton in a very bad light.

Mrs. French concluded that Mrs.
Stockton was not a worthy associate for young ladies, and the new member of the church was asked not to attend the Turkish tea. Mrs. Stockton was Mrs. French concluded that Mrs. Stockton was not a worthy associate for young ladies, and the new member of the church was asked not to attend the Turkish tea. Mrs. Stockton was indignant, and her cause was champitned by Dr. Brown. The reverend gentleman went with her to see Mrs. French and threatened her with proceedings before the standing committee for her action. Mrs. Stockton referred Mrs. French to Lloyd Tevis as a sponsor for respectability, but Mrs. French was not looking for references. She says that Dr. Brown subsequently told her that Mrs. Stockton had saved him and the church from scandal. Mrs. Stockton still declines to explain her position, but will probably do so on the witness stand.

From Seattle a story of the life of Miss Overman has come. It relates chiefly to her business as a dressmaker and her associations. In explanation of this story Miss Overman said last night that she occasionally went to Seattle to help her sister, who maintained a dressmaking establishment. On one of her visits her sister informed her that a certain disreputable woman owed her money which she refused to ay.

As it was a dark night Miss Overman's sister suggested that she should go to the house and try to collect the money. The suggestion was accepted but Miss Overman met with a warm reception. The woman was angry and violent, and her visitor left without collecting, the bill. The matter was subsequently placed in the hands of an attorney, who forced payment of the money. In explanation of the money. In explanation of the money. In explanation of the money as a manicuring establishment. Several people, she says, not knowing the change of occupants, called to heve manicuring work done, and upon this incident alone the charge against her was based.

These facts will become a matter of record in the Police Court. Mrs. Davmanduring work one, and about his incident alone the charge against her was based.

These facts will become a matter of record in the Police Court. Mrs. Davidson has subpoenaed Lloyd Tevis. Mrs. Mrs. M. A. Stockton, Mrs. Julie. Gillie. E. S. Simpsen. Mina Hyman, H. C. White and J. Bishop as witnesses for the defense. Lloyd Tevis says he will rell his story in court and not before. He admits having taken some interest in Mrs. Stockton, going even so far as to sittempt to secure her employment. What prompted that interest to secure her employment he will not say until he is asked on the witness stand.

Thomas J. Bass, the president of Bass, Heuter & Co., is more frank. He says that Mrs. Fannie Stockton did make an effort to blackmail him, attempting to use Attorney George Gear for that purpose. She claimed that Bass had defamed her character and she wanted damages. Gear was not in that business, however, and saved Bass, as he has explained in his affidavit. The united efforts of the two men were successful against the scheming of Mrs. Stockton. Bass's memory fails him in an effort to tell how or when he met Mrs. Stockton. The father of Attorney Gear also sheds some light on this episode.

Dr. Brown is in daily conference with friends. Offers of aid are coming from all sides and the opinion is expressed that he will come out of the fray with his honor unsmirched.

Many interesting letters were written to Mrs. Mary A. Davidson by Miss Mattle Overman while the latter was in Tacoma. The letters are filled with expressions of the highest regard for Mrs. Davidson and are also permeated with an intense spirit of religion. Many references are made to Dr. C. O. Brown and to the First Congregational Church. She says that she appreciates fully the beneficial influence which Mrs. Davidson has upon her, and in more than one of the letters regrets exceedingly that she is separated from her revered friend. Taking into consideration the statement made by Dr. Brown of the high intellectuality of Miss Overman, her wide reading, general intelligence and superior mental attainments and high education, the style of the letters is hardly what one might expect from so highly cultured a woman. They are filled with incorrect spelling and improper grammatical construction.

The preliminary examination was resumed in Judge Campbell's court tonight. Dr. Brown was called and answered several question relative to his meetings with Mrs. Davidson at his study and what transpired at the meetings on November 21 and 22 of last year, when the alleged extortion took place. Dr. Brown told how, at his dictation and suggestion, Mrs. Davidson wrote in his presence the document giving the name of the unknown lodginghouse keeper. This document Dr. Brown was to keep as evidence in the executed from the evidence until after Mrs. Davidson had been proved to be the agent of a blackmailer.

The prosecution argued that the defense argued that the paper should be excluded from the evidence until after Mrs. Davidson was not guilty of extortion and that the paper was the greatest evidence in the case against the accused. Judge Campbell overruled the objection.

This was the only incident of the evening, which was a series of objections by the defense, most of which were decided in fa

A. Davidson of fraud in Lynn, together with a photograph of the woman. According to the certifid report, the woman was sentenced to thirty months at hard labor, on February 2, 1887. The jury found her guilty of selling pianos, mortgaged to Oliver Ditson & Co., to Mary S. Judkins, Harvey S. Johnson, Eliza T. Stiles and George Fuller in 1884.

THE PERALTA-REAVIS CASE.

Great Preparations Being Made by Federal Officials.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—There was great activity in Federal circles today in preparation for the Peralta-Reavis perjury prosecutions. The most active man in the case was Special Agent Hughes of the Treasury Department, whose presence in the city was a mystery to all but the inner circle until was that speedy action was decided upon.

The government relies on the confession of several of the witnesses who appeared for Reavis. Another witness, in consideration of promises of indemnity from prosecution, made a confession, supplemented by his affidavit. From these confessions it appears that wast sums were within reach of the bogus claimant and that he made liberal promises to those who agreed to commit perjuny in support of his contention.

street, is a brother of James A. Reavis, the celebrated Peralta land grant claimant. Although a resident of this city many years, very few people have ever heard from his lips that he is so closely related to the man who has tried for twenty-five years to become the largest landed proprietor in the world.

Mr. Reavis naturally takes some interest in his brother's affairs, but he is too much bent on minding his own business to talk about matters that do not directly concern him, and he has no proprietary interest in the Peralta-Reavis claim whatever.

"I know considerable about my brother's claim, of course," said Mr. Reavis last evening when questioned about the sweeping perjury charges made in connection with the Peralta-Reavis case, as related yesterday in the telegraphic columns of The Times, "but I do not think it would be proper for me to discuss it, as I am in no way interested in the case, except to wish my brother and his family success. It has been my policy and my brother's policy never to deny anything that the newspapers choose to say. You must excuse me, therefore, for declining to be interviewed on the subject of my brother's claim.

"I will say, however, in regard to the statements about the claim being founded on perjured testimony, that it does not seem reasonable that so much testimony could be bought. To doubt the testimony of the California witnesses named is to impeach the veracity of some of the most prominent and upright citizens of the State. There is probably as much truth in these perjury charges as in the published statement that my brother is in Denver at present, and has not given up the fight by any means. He came by his interest in the Peralta claim by marriage, which accounts for none of the other members of the Reavis family being interested in it.

A ROUGH EXPERIENCE.

Newspaper-man Pease Loses Way in Lower California (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
ENSENADA (Lower California,) Jan.
2.—L. C. Pease, a Portland, Or., newspaper man, was brought into this city today by B. Valesquez, who lives a few miles up the coast.

Pease had a very rough experience, having started from Tia Juana last Monday for a horseback trip by the coast route to Ensenada for his health and lost the trail Tuesday night. While endeavoring to reach his destination by following the coast, he found himself late at night in a country so rough and mountainous that he could neither go forward nor return with his horse. So he decided to push ahead on foot, but first he shot the horse which had been injured by a fall, and, cutting the animal's throat, quenched his intense thirst by drinking the blood.

Pease reached Valeaquer's house twenty-four hours later, having by dint of swimming around points and climbling over rocks accomplished about twenty miles of coast which is generally considered impassable. He had been nearly forty-eight hours without food or water, and his mouth and throat were in a frightful condition from having chewed the pulp of cactus leaves to quench his thirst.

Cavalry-Alarm in Loyal-ist Circles.

HAVANA, Jan. 2.—(By South American Cable.) An engagement between the Spanish troops and insurgents has taken place at El Estante, south of Alfonso XII, not far from the frontler of the province of Havana. The official announcement says that the troops captured the insurgents' position, but the loss to the enemy is not known. It is admitted that two Spanish officers and four soldiers were killed, and nine-teen wounded. The insurgents, follow-ing the usual tactics, did not attempt a decisive engagement, but, after a skirmish, proceeded westward, devastating the country. The authorities here, in announcing this skirmish, added the significant statement that the troops "were moving closer to the province of Havana, which would indi-cate that the Spanish forces are once nore in retreat.

Later in the day it was announced here that further fighting between the Spaniards and Cubans was taking place in the vicinity of El Estante, which leads people here to believe that the insurgents had been in pursuit of the Spanish troops in that vicinity. The latter were commanded by Col. Galvis, who was also in command of the troops in the first engagement in the vicinity of El Estante, which seems to be a confirmation of the supposition that the Spaniards were worsted and that the Cubans are making the frontier of the province of Havana.

It was announced this afternoon that Felippe Roderiguez, the insurgent leader, had been killed in battle.

In view of the fine work and rapid progress of the insurgent eavairy, Gen. Campos has ordered the Spanish officials in all the disturbed districts to seize all the horses they can lay their tands on in order to prevent them form Later in the day it was announced ficials in all the disturbed districts to seize all the horses they can lay their hands on in order to prevent them from falling into the hands of the enemy, but it is believed that the Cubans are already as well mounted and supplied with horses as they need be.

The damage being done by the Cubans is terrible. They have burned the best part of the town of Jaguey and the canefields of Perla, Rosario and Australia, in that district and the Navarette district, and the plantations the best part of the town of Jaguey and the canefields of Perla. Rosario and Australia, in that district and the Navarette district, and the plantations of Vinas, Mendez, Geray, Escalant and Haza have been destroyed by the torches of the Spaniards' enemies.

In addition, the Cuban forces have burned many houses in the Cardenas district of the province of Matanzas, and have set fire to and destroyed many canefields in the Union de Reyes, Buena Vista, Janguey Grande and Macurijes districts. In addition, the village of La Yagua, whose inhabitants did not receive the insurgents as well as the latter would have liked, has been blotted out by fire. The government officials insist that the insurgents are robbing the poorest inhabitants of everything they can lay hands on, even stooping to take their watches and what little money they may find in their pockets.

Cable communications with Trinidad and all towns on the southern coast of the island was inaugurated today. The news that the insurgents are still on the borders of the province of Havana has increased the feeling of nervousness which has prevalled here from the time they entered the province of Matanzas, and no explanations which the authorities can furnish seem able to dispel the popular impression that there has been no real check of the Insurgent advances and that all the efforts of the Spanish troops to drive them out of Matanzas have proven fruitless. As already cabled, every man who could be spared from the regular and voluntary forces has been sent to the front, but this does not seen to have changed the situation and the military authorities continue working night and day in their efforts to place Havana in the best possible position to resist a siege. But the sentiment of the population here, as already noted, is gradually undergoing a change favorable to the insurgent easue, and nobody would be astonished to find that it has taken a

But the sentiment of the population here, as already noted, is gradually undergoing a change favorable to the insurgent cause, and nobody would be astonished to find that it has taken a more decided form than passive sympathy. The police are carefully watching the quarters inhabited by people supposed to be in sympathy with the insurgents, but this has not prevented numbers of young men from escaping from the city and making their way to the insurgent camp.

In addition to the trouble threatened from the direction of the province of Matanzas, it is feared that there will be more trouble from the direction of the province of the province of Pinar del Rio, on the other side of Havana. Although all news on this side is carefully guarded, it is known that the insurgents in that part of the country are rapidly increasing in number and daring, and nobody would be astonished to hear that an insurgent force will advance upon Havana from Pinar del Rio as soon as the main body of the insurgents under Gomez and Maceo is near enough to Havana to warrant such a movement. News received today leaves no doubt that the insurgents are in large force in the province of Havana, and are spread over a wide space, their rear guard stretching back into Matanzas province, while their vanguard is at Agua Calo, a town of some importance on the railipad between Matanzas and Havana, and only a little over thirty miles from Havana. Apparently the ing able to co-operate with one another.

Early in the day the authorities apparently had hopes of preventing the entrance of the insurgents into Havana province, when it became known that they were gathering in force on the bofders, and two battalions of troops were stationed at Les Palos to oppose their advance into the rich valley of the Guinas district, which is studded over with some of the most valuable canefields in the island. This force seems to have failed utterly to prevent the insurgents from passing them, and reaching Agua Cata, which is, however, well to the northward of the Guinas district.

It is learned that Gomez now intends to extend his incursions into the western province of Pinar del Rio, and the situation is considered exceedingly grave, in view of the great activity that has been manifested by local bands of insurgents in Pinar del Rio ever since Gomez advanced into Matanzis. It is known that Gomez directed these movements.

Insurgents in Pinar del Rio ever since Gomez advanced into Matanzis. It is known that Gomez directed these movements.

Notwithstanding the designation of their leaders by the authorities as mere bandits, it is feared that this advance will be accompanied by a general uprising in the province. An advance into Pinar del Rio would have the effect of practically surrounding this city with insurgents, and there are ill-concealed fears of an uprising within the city of the insurgent sympathizers. The authorities, however, stoutly maintain all their previously expressed confidence that the insurgents will not dare to attack Havana and that the movement is merely a raid intended to destroy property, as was the last one. Honore Lane, who was a prisoner in Gomez's hands during five days, has effected his escape and returned to Havana. He gives an interesting account of his experiences in the insurgents camp and explains some of the mysteries of the insurgent movements which have proved so successful for their purposes and for baffling the Spanish authorities.

He describes the so-called retreats of the main force of the insurgents from about Matanzas through Navajas, Crimea, Marga and Aguada, when it was supposed they were hurrying to Santa Clara province for a refuge or were making a demonstration upon Clenfuegos and their subsequent countermarch by a more northerly d'rection by Callente, Baro and Carral Falso in the direction of Alfonso. He says that Gomez and Maceo are at the head of a force of 8000 cavalry and infantry, the cavalry being excellently equipped, and that they have a well-organized force of 300 men to carry stretchers. Gomez's aide-de-camp, Cruse, has been killed and Alde-de-Camp Nordas wounded and his bugler also has been killed.

island is visible miles out to sea by reason of the masses of flame which arise from the sugar plantations where the cane has been set on fire by the insurgent forces.

Among the passengers from Havana on the Ardanhue was a civil engineer who had been on one of the trains wrecked by the insurgents while en route across the country. The train was attacked by the insurgents shortly after it left Cardenas, and the mails were ransacked. The insurgents took out all the Spanish mall and, after reading it, destroyed it. The other mail matter was not disturbed.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

ber of Commerce met yesterday after-noon, with Directors Patterson, Slau-son, Vetter, Klokke, Forman, Parsons and Davisson present. C. W. Hinch-cliffe and the Southern California Sup-ply Company were elected to member-shio. The secretary was instructed to send out a notice of the election for ply Company were elected to membership. The secretary was instructed to send out a notice of the election for officers and directors, which is to take place January 8 to every member of the chamber, the notices to contain a copy of the official bailot.

The Chamber of Commerce has a new register. It is the biggest register in the world. It has 4000 pages and it weighs 370 pounds. Secretary Williard prophesies that it will be filled within the year, and this means that 100,000 people will inscribe their names in the huge tome. A table was built especially for the volume, and there it rests, propped open on wooden supports. It was a mighty undertaking to lift it to its place, and required the united strength of three men.

Yesterday was the first day upon which the new register was used—since the first day of the year was a legal holiday, and the hall was not open to visitors. After the meeting of the board of directors this morning was over, the big book was formally dedicated. President W. C. Patterson wrote his name at the head of the first page, and the directors and the officers of the chamber followed suit.

Then the visitors from far and near commenced to put down their names. By 5 o'clock seven pages had been filled, with 175 signatures. There were people from Maine and from Florida, there were people from Oregon and North Main street; there were two Canadians, W. B. Drainie of New Westminster, B. C., and J. A. M. Jones of Kingston, Ont., and there was one Australian, J. W. Searle. Altogether twenty-four States and two foreign countries were represented. The following list of twenty-five names, on the first page, gives a notion of the variety of visitors one sees in the exhibit hall:

Hugh Kelly, Denver, Colo.; J. B. Jones, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. F. E. Gleason, Los Angeles; Fank Murray, Portland, Or.; Tom McKenzie, Los Angeles; Allee Rick, Los Angeles; Allee Rick, Los Angeles; Alnes Olson, Los Angeles; Estella Case, Waverley, Iowa; Nellie Case, Waverley, Iowa; Nellie Case, Waverley, Iowa; Mr. B. F. Lyttle, L F. Lyttle, Los Angeles; Mrs. S. M. Col-lins, Los Angeles, and J. J. Baer, Los

lins, Los Angeles, and J. J. Baer, Los Angeles.

The big register is made of very heavy paper and fine leather, and arouses general admiration. It was made expressly for the Chamber of Commerce by the donors, Kingsley, Barnes & Neuner.

The melon-pile near the Fourth street entrance was enriched yesterday by the addition of a Hercules club gourd three feet in length, the gift of D. T. Barrows of Cahuenga.

The organization of the Los Angeles school principals, recently formed in this city, will hold its first open meeting January 22, in the Spring-street school building at 4 o'clock. The Exec-utive Committee met last Monday and selected as the subject for discussion at this public meeting, "The Manage-ment of Children on thee Playground." The discussion is to be opened by M. C. Bettinger, principal of the Thirtieth-street school, and Miss Edith M. Joy, principal of the Seventeenth-street school.

England, in the Transvaal controversy, is not unlike that of the United States toward England in the Venezuelar however. The Transvaal question is merely one of conflicting material in-

RESOURCES OF UTAH.

The Chicago Tribune, in view of the State, has compiled some interesting information relative to its material recensus, taken this year. Utah has a population of 247,324 persons, which is an increase of more than 14 per cent. over the number as ascertained from the Federal census taken in 1890. The males outnumber the females by 6000, and nearly four-fifths of the popula-

The valuation of the State is $98,000 00, of which nearly half is land ,000,000 personal property and $11,000,000 railroads. The total value of property assessed is stated separ ately at $99,500,000, against nearly $124,000,000 four years earlier, and 6,387,000 acres of public lands have been disposed of by the land office in the last quarter of a century. The number of acres under cultivation last year was a little less than 500,000 about nine-tenths of which was under irrigation. These lands were irrigated during the season from three to twelve times, the duration of each wetting ranging from an hour and a half to twenty-four hours. The area of unimproved farm lands is stated at less than 1,000,000 acres, and the area capable of irrigation with profit to the cultivator is about 3,500,-000. The number of farms last year was about 21,000. The census of four years earlier showed only 11,884 fami-lies living on farms, of which 85 per cent. were owned free of incumbrance, 5 per cent, owned subject to incumbrance, and 10 per cent. hired.

The 3,000,000 bushels of wheat grown last year averaged 211/2 bushels to the acre. There are in the soon-to-be State nearly 2,500,000 sheep, valued at more than $12,000,000, though wool was worth only 6 to 8 cents per pound last year. Manufacturers are credited with the use of $5,500,000 of capital and more than 11,000 horse-power. They employ 5000 hands. There are nearly 00 stores, with more than $14,000,000 of capital and annual sales of $33,000,-000. The bank capital is $5,000,000, and the deposits more than $9,000,000. The silver production decreased from more than 8,000,000 ounces in 1890 and 1892 to 6,660,000 ounces last year, while the gold production has increased from 5000 ounces in 1884 to 56,427 ounces in thinks would be effective, as follows:

"If the greenbacks, when demanded, are paid out in small bills over the counter, requiring each bill to be counted before leaving the bank, and then counted again at the treasury, and the gold given therefor also paid out over the counter, requiring to be counted by the receiver, it would not be so easy or agreeable a matter to draw gold from the treasury. The banks of England, France and Germany put all the obstacles possible in the way when gold is required from them in large amounts to send out of their countries, while in this country we have done exactly the opposite. The banks have furnished the facilities by giving greenbacks in large quantities, when called for, which are presented to the treasury as received from the banks, and the government gives gold in exchange almost instantly in bags with the government's seal on, the amount being officially marked thereon. These bags as received from the treasury are put on shipboard and depart from our country seriously to our detriment in times like these." The non-partisan character of the Venezuelan commission affords a pretty good assurance that its work will be free from political bias. Two of the members are Democrats, two are Republicans and one independent, though leaning, if at all, toward the Republican side. The subject which the commission is to investigate has party politics in it. According to the information furnished by the Russian sugar manufacturers on November 1, last, and transmitted to the State Department by United States Consul-General Karel at St. Petersburg, the area of land in Russia under beet cultivation in 1895 amounted to 814,419 acres, or 29,855 acres more than in 1894. The quantity of sugar is estimated at 717,558 tons, which would be an increase of 115,607 tons over last year's crop. The Consul-General, however, points out that these estimates are founded on the most favorable conditions, which may not be realized. The prices of sugar have arisen abroad, causing an increased demand for Russian sugar.

A Chicago paper says that nothing certain concerning the purposes of the revolutionary element among Russians in Chicago can be learned. They not only keep their, plans to themselver, but et deavor to mislead the public and the spies of the Czar's government. Their friends among the reputed Anarchists of other nationalities, while professing to have no knowledge of ribilistic plots, admit it would be strange if there should be no atrack made by the fanatics on the young Czar. Adclah Grelf said the Russian revolutionally party was not likely to turn about from its own line of action because the situation in Russia was just the same as when the war against autocracy broke out.

A Boundary Dispute Between Arizona and California.

Arizona in Danger of Losing Her Penitentiary.

The Town of Yuma Stands on De batable Ground—A Question of Jurisdiction—Taxes and Land Titles.

named Juan Jose at Yuma, on the old quartermaster's reservation, by D. A. West last week is going to raise a most important question of jurisdiction between Arizona and California.

nia. This strip of land lies along the south and east bank of the Colorado, and upon it is situated the greater portion of the town of Yuma. If this proves to be California territory, it will take away from Yuma in Arizona all her water frontage on the Colorado River.

River.

The circumstances of the killing show that West and a dozen Cocopah and Yuma Indians all got drunk just before Christmas in one of the old abandoned government buildings on the Yuma. The reservation fronts on the Colorado River, and for many years prior to the coming of the Southern Pacific Railroad into Arizona was the scene of great activity, arising from the freighting of the government supplies for the forts in the interior of Arizona. It is a familiar spot to every pioneer on the Coast. Now it is entirely abandoned and the buildings have falsen, into decay, and serve only as

The German protect, it is also apparent, has indirectly strengthened the contention of the United States in the Venezuelan matter. German interests in South African are not to be compared in importance of the Control of States and the Venezuelan interests of the United States in the Venezuelan matter, and the Control of States and the Contr republics shall commence in the Gulf of Mexico, three leagues from land, opposite the mouth of the Rio Grande, otherwise called Rio Bravo del Norte, or opposite the mouth of its deepest branch, if it should have more than one branch emptying directly into the sea; from thence up the middle of that river, following the deepest channel, where it has more than one, to the point where its strikes the southern boundary of New Mexico; thence, westwardly, along the whole southern berder of New Mexico (which runs north of the town of El Paso,) to its western termination; then, northward, along the western line of New Mexico, until it intersects the first branch of the Gila River, (. . . .) thence, down the middle of the said branch, and of the said river, until it empties into the Rio Colorado; thence, across the Rio Colorado, following the division line between Upper and Lower California, to the Pacific Ocean."

(Then follows a description of a map made in 1847 by J. Disturnelli.)

"In order to preclude all difficulty in tracing upon the ground the limit separating Upper and Lower California, it is agreed that the said limit shall consist of a straight line drawn from the middle of the Rio Gila, where it unites with the Colorado, to a point on the Coest of the Pacific Ocean, distant one marine league due south of the southern-most point of the, Port of San Diego, according for the plan of said port, etc., etc.

between the United States and Mexico, the limits or boundaries of the United States and Mexico were provided as follows:

"The Mexican republic agrees to designate the following as her true limits with the United States for the future, retaining the same dividing line between the two Californias as already defined and established, according to the Fifth Article of the treaty of Quadalupe Hidalgo, the limits between the two republics shall be as follows: Beginning in the Gulf of Mexico, three leagues from land, opposite the mouth of the Rio Grande. thence as defined in said article up the middle of that river to the point where the parallel of 31 deg. 47 min. north latitude crosses the same; thence due west on hundred miles; thence south to the parallel of 20 deg. north latitude; thence along the said parallel to the Illith meridian of longitude west of Greenwich, thence in a straight line to a point on the Colorado River twenty English miles below the junction of the Gilla and Colorado rivers; thence up the middle of the said river Colorado until it intersects the present line between the United States and Mexico. The dividing line thus established shall in all time be faithfully respected by the two governments without any variation therein." etc., etc., etc.

erected into a temporary government by the name of the Territory of Arizona."

As will be seen by a map issued by authority of the Interior Department, in accordance with authentic surveys, the river Colorado bends to the north immediately after its junction with the Gila River. By its bending to the north, and by the boundary line running straight in a westerly direction, there is a small strip of land lying between the Colorado River and the international boundary line, is the Quarternational boundary line, is the Quarternaterna ster's Reservation, on which West killed the Indian Juan Jose.

This jurisdictional question is one that will have to be definitely settled by the courts at some time, and will be urged in this case of West by his lawyers, whether he is tried upon an indictment in the United States Court at Phoenix, Ariz., or in the District Court of the Southern District of California, meeting in this city.

The dispute as to this plece of land is of importance to the county of San Diego, for to that county this land may be established to belong. It is important to San Diego in the question of the collection of taxes upon a developing section of country, and important to the owners of land in the strip in the matters of transfer of titles to land.

Some months ago Calvert Wilson, who first raised these questions in the United States Court at Phoenix, and who was District Attorney of Yuma county, Arlz., at the time, and is now a resident lawyer of this city, applied to the District and Circuit courts of Southern California for a writ of habeas corpus for one Antonio Baldez, confined in the Arizona penitentiary, under sentence of conviction of grand larceny committed in Pina county, Arlz., upon the ground that he was illegally held in the State of California.

The application was denied by Judges Wellborn and Ross, but was renewed before Justice Field of the United States Supreme Court, when in San Francisco in September last. He rendered an opinion upon the petition not hitherto published, a portion of which is here given.

"It also appears from the petition itself that the said Antonio Baldez is a prisoner in jail, and is detained by virtue of a valid commitment, issued out of the District Court of the First Judicial District of the Territory of Arizona in and for the county of Pima. upon a conviction in said last named court of the crime of grand larceny.

"Federal courts and the justices and judges thereof will only issue writs of habeas corpus upon behalf of a prisoner in jail, in the particular cases mentioned in sec. 753 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

"Sec. 753 provides: The writ of habeas corpus shall in no case extend to a prisoner in jail, unless, where he is in custody under or by color of the authority of the United States, or for an act done or committed for trial b fore some count thereof; or is in custody for an act done or committed in pursuance of a law of the United States, or for an order, process, or decree of a court or judge thereof; or is in custody for an act done or omitted under any alleged right, title, authority, privilege, protection, or exemption claimed under color thereof, the validity and effect whereof depend upon the law of nations; or unless it is necessary to bring the prisoner into court to testify.

"It does not appear that the prisoner is restrained of his liberty by any federal action or under color of federal authority, or that the person who, it is chalmed, restrains him, is a federal officer or is acting under federal authority, but upon the contrary, it appears that the prisoner is restrained of his liberty within the limits of the State of California by one Thomas Gates without any commitment, process, or order of any court of the United States

"As it does not therefore appear that the prisoner in jail is in custody under any of the circumstances mentioned in sec. 753 of the Revised Statutes, application for a writ of habeas corpus in his case should not be made to, or be granted by a federal court, justice or judge.

"Since the jurisdiction of the federal courts is statutatory, (except the few cases in which the constitution vests

"Since the jurisdiction of the federal courts is statutatory, (except the few cases in which the constitution vests original jurisdiction in the Supreme Court,) the general power to issue the writ of habeas corpus as a means of inquiring into restraints of liberty, does not belong to them, but to the State courts, and it can be exercised by the national courts only in the instance and for the purpose specified in the acts of Congress. The power to issue the writ has been granted by statute to the various federal courts and thir judges in certain classes of cases where its employment may be necessary to

to the various federal courts and the injudges in certain classes of cases where its employment may be necessary to the discharge of their business or where the deliverance of the prisoner may be necessary to the vindication of federal law or of the right of those courts to pass upon it finally."

In classes of cases in which the power to issue the writ of habeas corpus has been granted to the federal courts, justices and judges, are those mentioned in section 753 of the Revised Statutes heretofore adverted to. The present case is not one of them. The application for the writ of habeas corpus should, therefore, and is hereby denied.

STEPHEN J. FIELD.

Associate Justice of United States Supreme Court.

The ground of the denial, it will be seen, is merely upon the jurisdiction of the court to issue the writ app.ied for, and does not go to the question of facts as to the boundary line.

The question will be fairly met in the West case, and a decision important to California may be looked for. The lawyers interested in this matter will carry the case on until a final decision is reached, either placing the land in California or leaving it in Arizona.

The success of an application for the discharge of an illegally-held prisoner in the Arizona penitentiary could be followed up by the wholesale prison delivery of all the convicts in the Arizona penitentiary.

THE TRACTION STRIKE.

PHILADELPHIA, (Pa.,) Jan. 3 .-- The street-railway strike is on again. At 1:40 o'clock this morning the motor-men and conductors employed by the men and conductors employed by the Union Traction Company decided not to go to work when the first day-cars start at 4 o'clock. The official declaration was made at a mass-meeting of the men in Labor Lyceum. It came amid the greatest confusion and against the strong protests of their conservative leaders. the strong protests of their conservative leaders. In fact, the excitement was so intense that numerous riots between the two elements were averted with the greatest difficulty. Many of the conservatives life in disgust.

An unsatisfactory conference with General Manager Beetem had been held earlier in the night and trouble began when the committee made a report to the mass-meeting. Previous to their arrival, the turbulent scenes of the day had been increasing in intensity. The question of strikes or no strikes was about to be put to the men when Dr. Griffiths, of the Christian League, made a speech, urging the mto be patient, and suggested further effort for peace. He was greeted with feers, and fuel was added to the flame when a man named Kirschner, of the Cigar-Makers-Union made a fiery speech, urging the men to strike.

President Mahon, who has all along been opposed to a strike, tried to shut off Kirschner, and also incurred personal violence from the the men, who wanted to hear Kirschner. The confusion kept up until Chairman Lutz wanted to hear kinescenter. The con-fusion kept up until Chairman Luiz put the question to a vote. A decided affirmative was the response. The meeting broke up in the greatest dis-

Edwin Hollanbach Punished His Wife's Partner in Guilt. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.- The Journal to-Bay says that Edwin Hollanbach's mo-tives for calling at W. T. Robinson's home Monday morning before dawn, arousing him from sleep, and trying to kill him, have been discovered. The incidents that preceded the attack are a dark story of a wife's downfall, her confession to her husband, his purpose to kill Robinson, to kill his wife, and then kill himself.

to kill Robinson, to kill his wife, and then kill himself.

It transpires now that Mrs. Hallanbach accompanied Robinson to the South Ferry Hotel on Saturday last, It is contended that this is the only occasion that Robinson took her there or casion that Robinson took her there or anywhere else. Hollanbach received word from one of his friends who had been watching Mrs. Hallanbach, of her visit to the South Ferry Hotel with Robinson, and the name under which they registered.

He accused his wife of disloyalty, and she confessed her guilt. He then loaded two revolvers, and put extra cartridges for each in his pocket. He also put a knife in his pocket. As he has since told a friend, he had formed a plan of vengeance. Hallenbach then ordered his wife to direct him to Robinson's house, and Monday's sensational affair, in which Robinson was shot three times through the body, and his brother John received a wound in the hand, followed.

The annual report of the Superintendent of Parks, as printed in another column, will be found to contain much matter of general interest. Perhaps the most noteable part of the report is that calling attention to the improve-ments needed in each park.

An advance stop was taken yesterday hen the Bard of Health instructed the Health Officer to estimate the popula-tion of this city at 100,000 souls, in mak-ing up his mortuary statistics. The basis formerly used was 80,000. A jump of 2 per cent, is not to be sneezed

The City Council has at length approved the street-sweeping contract, and the new contractor is expected to begin work at once. It is understood that the present street-sweeping "boss" will not give up his contract until the courts have decided upon the legality

It is a significant fact that a restaurant run by the Good Templars, in Pasadena, and, of course, not only seem ingly, but actually, a strictly temper ance concern, was closed by the Sheriff. Keepers of respurants that run right along frequently are caught at violating the liquor ordinance.

The grand juy has indicted a small boy for accidentally shooting a companion. There would seem to be some justification for the general feeling that the body of inquisitors merits a peaceful and honorable discharge after its arduous labors, and that it might have gracefully vanished with the old year without causing much mourning.

When the returned traveler tells of municipalities which own their own water, gas and electric-light systems, flush their streets daily, operate their own street-car lines, and so on, and sall this with never a taint of corruption, one has to confess that American com-munities could harn a good deal from some of the cities of the Old World.

It is now January 3, and all the good sitizens who swore off on New Year's day are recovering from their unwonted spasms of conscience, and are sliding spasms of conscience, and are sliding by easy stages into the old familiar habits of a sociable drink occasionally. and small loans vhenever they can be negotiated. The coming clange in the Grand avenue and Sevenh-street cable lines to lectricity will not only be an advantage to passegers in the shape of quicker service, and more comfortable cars, but it will also be of great benefit to the general public, in permitting the cars to turn the dangerous corner at First and Spring street at a lower at First and Spring street at a lower rate of speed thus lessening the prob-ability of acidents. Scarcely a day passes without the occurrence of some narrow escape at this corner, and it is indeed a winder that more serious ac-cidents do not occur there.

There is perhaps not another city of its size in he State that makes a better, if as good a showing as does Riverside at the present time. This is suggested by the statement of one of the banks by the statement of one of the banks there published in a local paper. It shows that the bank has deposits of nearly laif a million dollars, almost exclusively the funds of the residents of the valley. This, with the showing made by the other banking institutions, establishes the fact that at the erd of the year, and defore any money is received for the present crip of osinges or ismons, there is nearly one nillion dollars deposits in the banks of that city. There is not a bank in Southern Galifornia, save one, outin Southern California, save one, out-side of Los Angeles, that makes so good a showing for the community in which it does business.

e of Many Broken New Year's Resolutions.

Forty-three persons who failed to make New Year's resolutions, or broke them right away if they made any, had their names called in the Police Court yesterday by Justice Owens. Among the prisoners were eleven persons charged with drunkenness, three of whom were women. Fines ranging from $3 to $5 were imposed, nearly all being for first offenses.

Charles Williams got 180 days for vagrancy. Henry Devine, Frank Hafson, Richard Mansfield, Donald McClain, Ellis Westberg, Frank Slater, Robert Thompson, Arthur Merrill and Slias Morse, for the same offense, got sentences ranging from ten to sixty days.

Paul Koyne was tried for battery, and his case was taken under advisement. A. D. Mofatson, charged with battery, did not appear to put in a defense. He was accordingly adjudged guilty, and will be sentenced today.

Mary Stewart, a servant girl who got a position through an employment agency, and robbed her employer of some vases and china valued at $5 the first day she worked there, pleaded guilty to the charge of petty larceny and will be sentenced today.

James Sweeney pleaded guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace, and was sentenced $20 or twenty days:

Charles Wilson, charged with disturbing the peace, did not show up for trial, so he was adjudged guilty and his ilo bail money declared forfeited. Sentence will be pronounced today. Mixed up with Wilson in the same disturbance were Robert Marshall and two Japs, K. Assoro and B. Jakaw. They pleaded not guilty and had their trial set for today.

Joseph Summers pleaded not guilty to the charges of disturbing the peace and carrying a concealed weapon. His trial went over till today.

Harry Wilson, a youth who is accused of throwing a stone, through the window of a Chinese wash-house on New Year's eve, pleaded not guilty to the charge of malicious mischief. He will have a hearing today.

In Justice Morrison's court Len Anderson was arraigned on four charges of petty larceny, to all of which he pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial. Two of the cases will be he

mr. Holley is a Michigander, who is passing the winter in Los Angeles. Yesterday afternoon he shouldered his gun and whistled to his dog, and set forth to try his luck as a hunter. He tramped over the hills which border the river until he reached the pretty ravine down which winds the road from Elysian Park to the old river road. There he caught sight of a rabbit, and sat down on a big rock to wait for his dog to rout the bunny out.

As he sat there, in peaceful comfort, gazing at the arabesque of farms in the beautiful valley across the river, he saw a black speck come moving toward him through the air. As it drew closer he saw that it was a great bird, fiying slowly as if heavy-laden. He seized his gun, then dropped it again, thinking the bird must be a vulture, against the slaughter of which there are stringent laws. But as the bird passed by, a hundred feet up in the saw that it was no vulture, but a beautiful young eagle. In its claws dangied a chicken, and, in the strong hooked beak was a second tender pullet.

We feel like saying a great deal about our Black Dress Goods Department. People are buying Black Dress Goods now, they are not buying unseasonable goods; when the spring trade opens we will be found with desirable goods; while the winter trade is on we will be advertising. seasonable goods; our Black Dress Goods stock is so much better than it ever has been at this season of the year, we want you to bear this in mind; we want you to see what we have; take prices for 50c, 75c and $1 a yard, we are showing everything worth showing; new patterns and better qualities for the price; one thing about our Black Goods, we have not one piece we had in stock one year ago; we have over 500 pieces bought this fall and winter; when the tariff was taken off we sold out our entire line of Dress Goods and replaced it with new goods at a reduced price. This is what we have to show you today; for separate skirts we have the goods that are filled with pure Mohairs, and this will make the Skirt hang out better than all-wool goods. They have that rich, glossy appearance that even silk will not give it. They will wear better than goods filled with silk as the mohair fibre is much longer and has greater wearing qualities. It is the popular cloth today, and will be more popular for Spring. For Spring dress goods there will be a great quantity of Mohairs used; more so than ever before. We have mohairs in plain, in figures and stripes, some with small dots and checks; prices for black goods, all the way from 25c to $1. Large lines for 50c and 75c. Some finer goods for $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2 a yard.

PARK COMMISSIONERS.

Annual Report of the Superinten dent-Chain Gang not Wanted.

Superintendent of Parks Meserve yes terday submitted to the Park Commi sioners his annual report for the year 1885. His report deals alone with the condition of the parks, the improve-ments made and those needed, and does not touch upon the expenditures made in maintaining the park system. That portion of the report was prepared sevcommission, and was printed then by The Times. eral weeks ago by the secretary of the

THE NURSERY DEPARTMENT. In speaking of the nursery depart ments the Superintendent divided the ments the Superintendent divided the subject into two divisions, the nursery at Elysian Park and East Lake Park. At the former trees, large plants and palms were raised; at the latter bed-ding, stock and animals. Two clothding, stock and animals. Two clothhouses, six hot-beds and two-thirds of the cold frames have been built during the past year. The Superintendent says: "Our small parks demand an immense number of bedding and animal plants, and we have complete stock to meet all demands, and everything is high grade; at the first of the year the nurseries were poorly arranged and warry little stock was on hadd. I think high grade; at the first of the year the nurseries were poorly arranged and very little stock was on hadd. I think it proper to prepare a large assortment of fine trees and palms, as it will be but a short time before Elysian Park, with its immense area will be ready for general improvements, and it is possible that the Westlake Prak extension and the proposed new parks will need trees and plants. The appropriation for this department is far too small and it will be found necessary to transfer from other funds. The importance of making a more liberal allowance for the nurseries should be impressed upon the Council.

WESTLAKE PARK.

WESTLAKE PARK.

This park is the favorite resort of the city, immense crowds attending the entertainments there each Sunday. In consequence much extra work is required to clean up and repair the grounds after one of these large assemblies. It is to be hoped that the proposed extension and boulevard will be pushed with all haste, as the area gained will tend to scatter the people more. The work of constructing the entrance of Wilshire boulevard into westlake Park has been taken up, and will soon be completed. The soil is very poor, at this park, and extra expense is incurred in hauling large amounts of loam and manure to build up the sterile ground. For this purpose 1822 cubic yards of manure have been used this year, and we are now preparing quantities of fertilizing material to aid in reclaiming some of the sterile alkail beds. In repairing old works and drives 499 cebt of new walks have been used; 990 feet of new walks have been used and graveled; 600 feet of stone guttering has been constructed and covered with cement, and much of this work remains to be completed, as well-laid drain gutters are very necessary on sides of walks and drives. One hundred loads of stone and sand have been used in building a retaining wall on the eastern boundary of the lake. One hundred benches have been realeded at once near the bind of the eastern boundary of the lake. One hundred benches have been realeded at once near the bind stand. "A new bandstand costing $1700 is nearly completed. The neck of water east of the stand should be filled up to give more seating capacity. It is my intention to take up the matter of the proposed water-fall and fountain at the proposed water-

"A new bandstand costing $1700 is nearly completed. The neck of water east of the stand should be filled up to give more seating capacity. It is my intention to take up the matter of the proposed water-fall and fountain at the northern end of the park. A good covering of gravel is needed at once for the drives. The irrigating system is incomplete, and much remains to be done in this department.

ing of gravel is needed at once for the drives. The irrigating system is incomplete, and much remains to be done in this department.

"Through the sid of the night officer, much better order is mitutained at night, and the park is the more popular with the general pubble. Under this head the superintendent suggests to the board that more positive instructions be given to special officers, foreman and police in maintaining park rules, as much vendalism and abuse constantly occurs. Park officers in San Francisco and other cities are much more strict in this matter than our men.

"The lawns present a serious question, as Bermuda grass has taken possession of all the lawns. They will have to be taken up one by one, the Bermuda taken out, and after a tim new lawn seed planted, and then care ful attention gives to kenticute. attention given to keeping the , which can be done by vigil the part of employees.

ST. JAMES PARK.

This beautiful little spot is kept in excellent order and well-nigh perfect condition. During the last year connection to the fountain from the watermain and from the fountain to the sewer has been made. Two ornamental beds have been added during the year and the area of the lawns has been increased. The borders have been greatly improved and now present a compact and handsome appearance. The super-intendent advocates the use of chemical fertilizers in this small park, as manures are unsightly and unpleasant in a small area so constantly used.

CENTRAL PARK.

During the last year many changes have been made in this park. The cut-ting down of the cypress trees over ting down of the cypress trees over the rose beds was a great improvement. Two-thirds of the lawn area has been replanted and the soil renewed. Many minor improvements relating to the grounds have been made. The side-walks should be re-graveled or laid with cement and widened. A fence to save the lawn and borders should be built at once.

Central Park had a very bad reputation for a long time, but it has steadily and greatly improved through the co-operation of the regular and special police officers and petfect order is new maintained. A crowlet of the loungers made this their headquarters, and by their noisy debates caused great anniance. Two leaders were arrested and convicted, and this had an excellent effect on the remainder.

EASTLAKE PARK. EASTLAKE PARK.

EASTLAKE PARK.
With good railroad facilities this resort is rapidly growing in the estimation of the public. During the year a large amount of work has been done on the walks and drives. The park suffers from an inadequate water system. An entire reconstruction is needed. The lawns are free from Bermuda grass, but are infested with burr clover. New outbuildings have been constructed, and a band stand is needed, but can not be built this year.

ELYSIAN PARK.

It is a waste of words to dwell upon the beauties and possibilities of the Elysian hills and valleys. Nature designed the place for a park, and it is a natural park. This fact should be ever kept in mind and no obliteration made of the natural scenery. The park needs boulevards, walks, lakes and a water system, with judicious planting and arrangement of trees, palms and arrangement of trees, palms and shrubs, and to do this work will require large sums of money. The advisability of making a complete map of the park, taking in the intended additional area, including on the map a detailed plan of improvements, and then shaping the growing of plants and trees in the nursery department so as to meet the ELYSIAN PARK.

demands of the mapped-out plans is suggested by the superintendent. By so doing each incoming Board of Park Commissioners will not be changing work already done or commenced, but will follow a definite plan of improvement.

CONSERVATORY DEPARTMENT.
This department is at once a necessity and a luxury. The manner of conducting the conservatory has been greatly improved of late. Many additions of plants have been made in the year. At least $1000 a year should be allowed for this department alone. There have lately been material changes made in the fernery, which has enhanced its beauty.

CHAIL CANG NOT WANTED.

CHAIN-GANG NOT WANTED.

Superintendent of Buildings Strange appeared before the commissioners with plans prepared by him for a stockade and barracks in Elysian Park. The board was pleased with the plans, but seemed averse to putting the chaingang in the park. After a discussion of the question it was decided to request of the Council that a barracks capable of sheltering 100 mem be built in Elysian Park, and that unemployed men alone be placed there.

The nuisance created by blatant orators in Central Park came before the board, and a recommendation was made to the Council that an ordinance be passed prohibiting this sort of thing, and forbidding its continuance.

The Childresses borrowed $25,000 from the First National Bank in San Francisco, giving an unsecured promissory note for the amount. It is alleged in the complaint that the Childresses were insolvent when they deeded their property to the Investment Company, and the suit is brought to set aside, the deed and have the property taken to satisfy the debt to the bank.

in volume, owing to the holiday season, and also to the fact that operators have been taking stock, in order to find out just where they stand. There being out just where they stand. There being little to note in the way of actual transactions during the past week, it is a good opportunity to take a glance at the real state business of the year that has just gone into history, with a view of possibly extracting therefrom some lessons for the present year, or at least some hints of what is likely to happen during 1896 in the real estate market. THE BUSINESS SECTION.

THE BUSINESS SECTION.

Eighteen ninety-five will go into the real estate history of Los Angeles as the yean when South Broadway first took its position as a strong rival of Spring street for supremacy as a business thoroughfare. Early in the year prices of property on this street were pushed up to a point that fairly astonished some of the old-timers, who wondered what was going to happen when $1000 a foot was refused for a lot near Third, street. The big demand created quite a boom in Broadway property and there was danger that people might go beyond reason in making purchas a, which would certainly have been followed by a disastrous reaction. The Times called attention to the fact that prices were being rushed upwards more rapidly than the stuation warranted. This view was shared by conservative real estate dealers, and the Broadway boom was checked before it; got beyond the bounds of reason.

and the Broadway boom was checked before it, got beyond the bounds of reason.

It should not be for a moment understood that there has been any serious setback to values on this fine thoroughfare. Prices of property are maintained very firmly, only investors and speculators are not at present tumbling over each other to buy Broadway frontage at the highest market rates.

The remarkable amount of business improvement that has gone up on Broadway during the past year has naturally had the effect of increasing the demand for property on that street, and strengthening the hold of buyers. As The Times has remarked, it is about time to inquire whether the construction of big business blocks couth of Third street has not been pushed far enough, for at least a short time—say six months or so. It is not likely that the record of business buildings going, up during the early part of 1896. There are quite a number of offices to be furnished with tenants just now, and several hundred more will be ready within a couple of months or as soon as the blocks now under way are completed. For some lines of business it makes little difference in just what part of the city a person's office may be located, so long as it is on a prominent thoroughfare. In other enses the location makes all the difference. This is notably so in the case of lawyers, who must be within easy from its present quarters within the next couple of years. That the business center of Los Angeles will be one day located somewhere between Sixth and Hill and Seventh and Broadway there is little doubt, but those who invest in the expectation of seeing this happen before the end of the present century are likely to be disappointed—financially and otherwise. It may take a dozen years to accomplish such a change, or it may take less than ten. While Broadway has been so much sought after during the past year. Spring street has by no means been neglected. There has been no diminution in the crowd that throngs this choroughfare from morning to night. On the contrary, it is more difficult than ever to make one's way along the sidewalk between First and Third street, especially of an evening. The traffic that is now found on Broadway as far south as Fourth street, seems to be just so much extra gained from increase in population. Property-owners on Spring sereet are by no means ready to admit that Broadway will ever take first rank as a business thoroughfare.

Property-owners on Bpring serect are by no means ready first rank as a business will ever take first rank as a business of the town of the own of south that witnessed on Broadway, there are several important building projects on foot which are likely to be carried out during the present year, and will add greatly to the attractiveness of Spring street.

Main street has not yet fulfilled the hopes entertained of it early in the year, when there was some talk about a Main street has not yet for the same designation, who is selected the sounty. There are three chief reasons for Tenth-sireet hotel, upon which so many expectations of improved values have been based, has apparently once more vanished into thin air, after having the second reason of improved values have been based. The third reason is the time-worm of those on the west side of Broadway by means of a tunnel more values have been based. The third reason is the delay that has taken place in the paying of the street, owing to disputes and legal complications which arose. The assurance has now been given the time worm of the street of th senting quite an imposing appearance between Spring and Broadway. The streets further south have, however, also benfited by the increased demand for such property, and frontage on Seventh street, between Broadway and Grand avenue, is now firmly held at about $200 a foot. As long as there is no attempt to unduly inflate prices, property on these streets may be considered a first-class investment, as the steady increase of prices on Main. Spring, Broadway and Hill must be accompanied by a like increase on the side streets, which, until the beginning of this year, were generally overof this year, were generally overlooked by investors and speculators.

Extension of the business section during the past year has not been confined to South Broadway, but has been noticeable on Seventh street, where quite a number of store buildings have been western part of the city, which has received quite an impetus during the past few months, owing to the extension of the Traction system outside the city limits. The improvements that have been made on Angelen Heights have been quiet, but with the probable construction of an electric-car line during the present year there is every probability that the Heights will come to the front as a favorite residence section.

The improvements that have been made during the year in that section innown as South Los Angeles, between made during the year in that section innown as South Los Angeles, between central avenue and San Pedro streets, are indeed remarkable. Prices have been going up here from 50 to 100 per cent. since January, 1895, and they are still considerably below the price asked for equally desirable property at the same distance from the business center in other directions. A new tract of considerable size is to be placed on the market in this section within a few weeks, particulars of which will be given in The Times. South Los Angeles has become established as one of the first-class residence sections of the first-class residence sections of the first-class residence section of good improvements.

The speech of the evening was made by Rev. O. OFFICE OF THE TIMES, Los Angeles, Jan. 2, 1896, INVESTMENTS AT HOME. It is a curious fact that investors are often ready to lend money on schemes at a distance, when they can not be persuaded to take any stock in home en terprises which promise good profits, combined with safety. In these cases distance lends enchantment, but the enchantment too often is of short dura-ticn. Bright pictures are often painted of the enormous profits to be made of the enormous profits to be made from deals out in the wilderness, or in some half-civilized or inaccessible section of the country, but it is the exception when these dreams of weath are fully realized.

These remarks are specially directed to some of our Los Angeles capitalists who seem to have an idea that anything in the nature of a local investment is beneath their notice. Yet many of them have made all the money they possess here, not always through exertions of their own, but through the general increase in value of property, owing to the exertions and public spirit of their more enterprising neighbors.

COMMERCIAL.

MEAT PRICES IMPROVING. Prices been abandoned. It looks as if there years and many cautic enterprises have been abandoned. It looks as if there would be an improvement in this condition of affairs from now on. There are several reasons for this. The population of the country is increasing, while the production of meat is comparatively at a standstill, and is more likely to go back instead of forward. Land in the United States is getting too valuable for ranges and when it comes to feeding cattle the cost of production is necessarily much greater. E. A. Stuart of this city, who has just returned from his old home in Western Texas, which is a great center of the livestock industry, tells the Commercial Bulletin that steers on the range are worth from $7$ to $8$ per head, whereas a few years ago they hardly sold at $4.50 to $6$. He reports one case where a cattleman refused $16$ per head for the two-year-cld heifers in his herd, the demand being strong for his grade of cattle to be used in breeding.

BANANAS. Few persons who have not investigated the subject have any idea regarding the value of the bananas consumed in the United States every year. According to the American Grocer, the value of bananas imported during the past five years amounts to $25,992,483 or an annual value of $5,-198.497.

Some attempt has been made to raise bananas for the market in Southern California on a small scale, but there are only a few favored sections where the tree can be relied on to ripen its fruits. Among these are Santa Barbara-and the Cahuenga Valley. To be palat-able, the fruit should not be permitted to ripen on the trees, but should be cut while green and hung up in a cellar or storeroom.

THE PORTER FAILURE. The recent assignment of the big fruit house of Porter Bres., in San Francisco, was a surprise to the trade. It is evident that the unsatisfactory prices prevailing for fruit of all descriptions during the past few years have had their effect on the dealers as well as the growers. In fact, it may be said, in spite of an idea to the contrary which prevails extensively among California frait-growers, that the path of the muchabused middleman is not entirely devoid of thorns.

Sixteen dances and a large number of extras were enjoyed, and a collation was served, while punch was dispensed to the thirsty from huge punch-bowls. The knights wore full uniform, and their ladies were in full dress, many beautiful costumes being worn.

Roth-McKee.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Chapman in the Brockway Block, there was a pretty wedding New Year's night, the contracting parters being Miss Mary L. McKee and John Roth, both residents of Pasadena. Rev. Clark Crawford performed the first of the fact that under the law they have no power to construct a system of roads, but only to keep them in repair. This may be, but still it should certainly be possible to make these rebairs in a sensible and scientific manner, under charge of a man who knows something about road building. The first of the fact have any conception of the errorms, which was witnessed by Mr. Brockway, Mr. and Mrs. Cs. Barks and Mrs. Col. Baker and son. The value of sales of the 306 societies in France are the 355 000,000 a year, and the total number of members is about 300,000. In addition to these societies in France are the farmers' syndicates, in which about 900,000 persons are concerned. The syndicates buy fertilizers and other chemicals for vine culture; maintain laboratories for the analysis of soils, publish monthly price lists and perform other services for the general benefit.

Wholesale Quotations Revised Daily.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2, 1896.

The New Year's holiday and the later part of the week coming so near together has rather demoralized the markets and there is little disposition to quote new prices. Merchants are making up their books for the year and it will probably be the first of next week before things resume their normal aspect. The eaction from the brisk trade of the holidays has little if any depressing effect. Eggs are rimer and Eastern are practically cleaned ut. Cheese is firmer. Dried fruits are dull. Outry is well cleaned up, with little desand. Butter remains about the same as try in the week.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The first business of the new year on the New York Stock Exchange was not especially conspicuous in any particular, duliness excepted. In common with all the other financial markets the stock speculation was contracted by expectations in the new government issue and by a monetary condition that allows of importation and exportation of gold at the same time and at a profit in either transaction. Of course the importation of gold at the same time and at a profit in either transaction. Of course the importation of gold at the same time and at a profit in either transaction. Of course the importation of gold at the same time and at a profit in either transaction. Of course the importation of gold, who are as to abundantly justify the payment of a stiff premium for the gold to be turned into the treasury in exchange therefor. The exportation of gold, though profitable at rulling figures, would be less remunerative. Hence, instead of the metal being sent out on exchange operations, it is imported as a commodity. This is an anomalous condition of affairs. In the early dealings the market proved superior to the receipt of disturbing news from London denoting a moderate scare on the part of investors at that center owing to the fillbustering raid into the Transacal and anxiety as to possible complications to arise in consequence. The prices of American securities were also reported \(\frac{1}{2} \) per cent. lower. In the local market, however, prices at the outset improved. The dealings were light, and after the first haif hour disastifaction over the delay in launching the government bond issue was redected the loss of the early sealing upon values came to hand, except early searching upon values came to hand, except early search provides the search and the search tion over the delay in launching the government bond issue was reflected in a sagging tendency of values, and caused the loss of the early improvement. The volume of business was extremely light and but little or no news bearing upon values came to hand, except gossip regarding the estimated amount of gold on the way from Europe and the course of the money market. It was reported that from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 had been consigned in the aggregate to two firms in this city, but statements made. It is understood that a fairly active business was done at 668 per cent. and the closing fluor was at the lowest of the day. The closing fluor was at the lowest of the day. The closing was weak with concessions in prices general on the day. The bond market was dull, but prices were generally well held. The sales were $1,105.000.

American securities were a little dull at first insympathy but closed quite cheerful with higher prices in most cases. There were large offerings of derman bills on 'change today in connection, it is said, with the impending American bond issue, in which the German houses will take a prominent part. MARKS MENDA OF SANTA GUILTY OF BURGLARY. cursion Committees Appointed. How the Water Will Run-News Notes and Personals of Interest.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 2.—(Regular Correspondence.) Marks Menda, the Mexican boy who was arrested here in Santa Ana several weeks ago for stealing a couple of revolvers from residents of the city, had his trial today before Superior Judge Towner and a jury of twelve men. The case occupied the entire time of the court, and went to the jury late in the atternoon. After brief deliberation the jury returned a verdict of "guilty of burglary in the second degree." This verdict was accompanied by a recommendation of mercy to the Judge.

Judge.

The young prisoner will be brought up Tuesday of next week for sentence, and, on account of his youth, he will most likely be sent to the Reform School.

The jury which sat in the case was composed of Thomas E, Cone, Thomas B. Goodnight, Benton Flood, William B. Artz, John E. Edwards, A. M. Alderman, D. L. Matheny, H. M. Newell, A. T. Cole, Theo Ford, J. S. Bond, Henry Jessen.

Heretofore the mail has been carried regularly by the Santa. Ana and Newport Railroad without any compensation, and just why the change is made is not now apparent to the public.

Under the new arrangement the mail will not leave Santa Ana for the beach before 2 o'clock p.m., while before it left at 9 o'clock a.m., and but one hour and thirty minutes' time is given for the route-carrier to make the film miles' drive, including two stops for change of mail—at Newport Store and Fairview. The drive cannot possibly be made in that time, and the department at Washington have been so informed.

The latter committee is a very important one, as a large number of vehicles will, no doubt, be needed to take the visitors a brief but pleasant trip over the valley as outlined by the committee having the programme in charge. All persons having a buggy or carriage that they can press into service next Wednesday are cordially requested to send word immediately to Mr. Minter, the committee of one who has charge of that matter,

INCREASING LIBRARY BUSINESS.

Increasing Library Business.
The report of the librarian. Miss Mosse of the Public Library, for the year ending December 31, shows there are in the institution 268 volumes, 412 volumes having been added during the year. During the past five years there has been a marked increase in the use of books. The home circulation for each of those years was as follows: To January 1, 1892, 5304; to January, 1893, 7508; to January, 1895, 16,106; to January, 1896, 19,133. But one magazine has been missed from the reading rooms during the year, although the library has constantly been open day, and evening so that the public has had free access to papers and magazines. Books are obtained from the librarian on application. The total registration of borrowers since the institution was opened as a free library in April, 1893, is 1462. The enrollment of new members during the past year is 420. The active membership numbers 340. Many of those who enrolled as members were tourists. Of the books in the library the numbers of them devoted to some of the subjects embraced are as follows: Philosophy, 38; religion, 123; sociology, 47; natural science, 66; useful arts, 25; fine arts, 57; literature, 225; history, 149; travels, 167; blography, 222; flotton, 1379; Spenish, 12. The Board of Trustees will, at its meeting Monday night, receive bids for the construction of a trunk sewer system, for which bonds have been voted. The bonds are for $40,000, but as they sold at a premium, about $43,000 will be realized from them. The sewer, when completed, is intended to be within easy reach of nearly all parts of the city by means of lateral connections. There is doubt as to whether there will be many bidders, but it is thought there will be a fairly large number.

Street Superintendent Stone has been doing very effective work recently on Redlands Heights, and in this has been greatly assisted by a volunteer force of property-holders. As a result the streets are in better shape, many a defective bridge has been mended, and culverts, damaged by storms of the past year, have been repaired.

There is a growing feeling in favor of the city reducing expanses by taking advantage of the law permitting municipal taxes to be raised by the county, thus dispensing with both city assessments and tax-collecting. The objection to this in the past has been that it would not produce a revenue sufficient to meet city expenses. It looks now as though this would be the basis of the contest at the spring election.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 2.—(Regular Correspondence.) Two hundred men, mounted on all sorts and conditions of horses, gathered at La Mesa on Wednesday to participate in a widely-advertised coyote, rabbit and wild-cat drive, for the purpose of ridding the countryside of as many of these animals as possible. The horsemen were a study indeed. There was the coatless, unkempt Mexican on a mustang, who rode his saddleless mount with the seat of a vet-ran cavalry officer. A rope mais as possible. Ther lorsemen were a study indeed. There was the coalless, unkempt Mexican on a mustang, who rode his saddleless mount with the seat of a vet-ran cavalry officer. A rope answered for a bridle. From such an outfit up to the gayly caparisoned steed of the recently arrived tender-foot with his silver-mounted saddle and high-bred horse, was the company of drivers composed. Indeed, it was a motley crowd. Divided into three sections, the command traversed a large area of mesa and bush land toward a common center, making such a terrific noise as to scare all wild things before it. No guns were allowed. At one point in the proceedings the drivers were scared. A startled mountain lion ran through the line of horsemen. Not a single hand was raised to oppose the savage beast, and many a heart was thankful that the game did not "do up" the hunters. Onward swept the three cavalcades of eager drivers. Now and then a cotton-tail rabbit would jump up and run and then disappear. As the horsemen approached the common center, where they expected to corral a large bag of game, their eyes were strained expectantly to see the hundreds and perhaps thousands of animals break cover only to be clubbed to death. The clubs and clubbers were ready but the animals never came. One animal appeared. It was a half-grown cotton-tail. Two hundred would-be rabbit, coyote and wild-cat killers were thwarted. The luckless rabbit was allowed to go unharmed, as the humor of the situation dawned on the minds of the disgusted hunters. And so ended San Diego's great and only rabbit drive.

Eugene Germain, United States Vice-Consul at Zurich, Switzerland, has re-turned to Los Angeles after an absence of two years. He will be here but two months, and then, after a visit to San Francisco, will return to his post.

"Zurich is a delightful old place," said Mr. Germain yesterday. "It is built on hilly ground on the shores of Lake Zurich, just where it empties into the Limmat. In the older part of the town, where the streets are narrow and the ancient houses tall, there are buildings erected eight centuries ago. The old old place. There is a fine new portion of the town, allive with electric cars. There are 136,000 people living in Zurich, and the population increases at least 12,000 every year. In the year 1884 over 1100 new stone buildings were erected.

"It's a pleasant place to live. The streets are all paved, and are washed every day. The whole place is kept scrupulously clean. Every little court and alleyway, every yard and stable, is inspected frequently and thoroughly. Yes, the sanitation is wellnigh perfect, "The city is honeycombed with parks, big and little, and all of them beautiful and full of rare plants.

"The city owns its cwn gas, electric light and water systems. The municipality does all the plumbing and sells all the gas and electric fixtures. The water is drawn from the lake and carefully filtered, and it is said by experts to be unusually pure and good. A short time ago the concession of the city horse-car line expired. Instead of renewing it, the municipality bought the whole thing outright. The electric lines are still in private hands, but they will ultimately become public property.

"You know such things are more common in Switzerland than in America. The federal government owns all the legraph and telephone lines. My telephone in Zurich costs me only 316 a year. The rallroads are not owned by the public, but are carefully regulated. Each canton has a board of railway directors, and the federal government has a board also. These are in addition to the directors of the individual railroad companies. The government authorities regulate fares and freight rates, and see that all railways are well built and kept in good repair.

"The best thing about all this is the unparalleled freedom from corruption of polities. There is no place in the world where public affairs are so honestly and ably managed as in Switzerland."

"Is Zurich well equipped education

"Is Zurich well equipped educationally?"
"Yes, indeed. The kindergartens, the primary schools and the gymnasiums are all very good. You know Pestalozzi was born in Zurich and Froebel lived there many years. The polytechnic school numbers among its faculty some of the foremost scientists of Europe, and the university has a high reputation. Tutition in these two institutions is but 1100 a year. You would be surprised to find how much linguistic knowledge there is in Zurich. German is the native tongue, but everybody with any pretensions to an education talks one or more other languages. The merchants and business men whom I meet all talk English with me, as do all whom I meet in society. And they speak it elegantly, too.

"Another institution of which Zurich is proud is the Tonhalle," or "Tunehall." This is a magnificent stone building, whose cost—f2,000,000—was defrayed entirely by popular subscription. Within is a large rotunda which holds from 2000 to 3000 people. There is a concert here nightly—vocal, plano, violih and orchestral music—and here the people come in crowds. Admission is but 14 cents. One may smoke or drink a glass of wine here.

"In another part of the building is a large concert hall. There is a fine concert here every Tuesday, and the hall is always full, though admission is $1.50.

"There is also a theater built and supported by popular subscription. Through the winter a stock company gives three operas a week. The other evenings there are traveling troupes, or performances by the stock company of actors. One can get a good dress-circle seat for 60 cents and the attractions are always good."

"Is there much emigration from circle seat for 60 cents and the attractions are always good."

"Is there much emigration from Switzerland to America?"
"It all depends on the state of affairs in the United States. In times of prosperity in America, a steady stream of Swiss emigration flows westward. But times of financial stringency check this. There are no immigrants whom the Americans should welcome more gladiy than the Swiss. They are intelligent, law-abiding, industrious and thrifty. They quickly adjust themselves to American institutions and and thrifty. They quickly adjust them-selves to American institutions and ways of life. But did you know that a native of Switzerland never loses his citizenship in his own country? He can come to America and live here for forty years, become a naturalized citi-zen and marry an American wife. But when he returns to Switzerland he is when he returns to Switzerland he is welcomed back, and informed that he is still a Swiss citizen. Once a Swiss always a Swiss."
"Is there much trade between the United States and Switzerland?"

"A good deal, and it is increasing every year. Switzerland sends us silks, watches, beautiful wood-carvings, embroiderles, quantities of condensed milk, musical boxes, cotton goods, worsteds, yarns, scientific instruments, boilting cloth, aluminum, beef extract, knitted underwear, dresses, handkerchiefs, and so on. In return we send lumber, machinery, furniture, paper, carpets, 'tobacco, wheat, dried fruits, wincs, honey, agricultural implements, leather, canned meats and so forth.
"The Swiss merchants have been buying most of their American goods through importers in the seaport cities of Europe. The necessity of paying the middleman's profit has greatly retarded the sale of American goods. I have been trying to put Swiss merchants in direct communication, with tarded the sale of American goods. I have been trying to put Swiss merchants in direct communication with American manufacturers. The manufacturers and merchants of this country really ought to send representatives to Switzerland who can talk German and French, who would make their homes there and push their business with vigor and system. Correspondence cannot possibly accomplish as much nomes there and push their business with vigor and system. Correspondence cannot possibly accomplish as much as direct man to man work.

"I have tried to do what I could to introduce American goods and to acquaint Swiss merchants with what America has to offer. Of course anything of that kind is necessarily slow, but I have made a beginning, and I don't intend to cease my efforts. Here are some letters which give a little idea of what I am trying to do."

Mr. Germain opened a scrapbook and turned to some of the letters pasted therein. One was from Secretary of War Lamont thanking Mr. Germain for a translation of a report on the organization of the Swiss army. Another was from the Richmond (Va.) Mica Company, another from the Moline (III.) Plow Works, a fourth from the New Haven Arms Company, all thanking Mr. Germain for information which enabled them to open up trade in Switzerland. A STAGE ROMANCE.

Romantic Marriage of Two of the

At the Cathedral yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock a sweet little romance of stage life ended in the finale of a wedding between Peter Curley, who nightly essays the role of the lightweight po-liceman in "1492," and Anna Thompson, one of the chic and charming dancing girls in the six daily hints from Paris divertisement, one of the features of the Rice show, which is now devasting divertisement, one of the features of the Rice show, which is now devasting the hearts of the chappies at the Los Angeles Theater.

While touring in the South a few seasons back Miss Thompson was taken seriously ill with a fever, and it was thought it would be necessary to leave her at some hospital en woute, but, owing to her appeals not to be left behind, she was continued with the company, Mr. Curley being her faithful nurse whenever not on the stage. His manly and tender ministrations, devoted though they were, were not equal to the task of bringing about the young lady's recovery, and it was finally found necessary to send her back to New York for treatment and nursing in a hospital.

It was now Mr. Curley's time to be taken down with the same malady which had afflicted Miss Thompson. He was severely ill for quite a long time in a hospital in an eastern city but about a year ago the twain returned to their places in the company and the wedding yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large number of their theatrical associates is the outcome.

There were kisses for the bride at the conclusion of the solemn ceremony at the chancel rail, and at the curbstone a shower of rice and good wishes followed the happy couple into the carriage which whirled them away to their hotel.

Passenger Who Begistered Heavy Kick.

"Transfers!" yelled the conductor on whistles began to rend the air. "Yes, University, south," answered passenger.

The conductor hurriedly punched the back platform to help an old woman on the car.

The passenger cast an idle glance upon the transfer and then examined it with a look of anxiety. He jumped up and sought the conductor on the back platform. "You've made a miscake in punching my transfer," he said. "I'm afraid it won't be accepted on the other car."

The conductor scrutinized the transfer. "What's the matter?" he asked.

"Didn't you ask for University, south?"

"It's the time that's wrong," rejoined the passenger.

The conductor drew a fat silver watch from his pocket and compared it with the transfer. "That's all right," he said, triumphantly.

"Of course it isn't," the passenger retorted. "It's ten minutes past noon now, and you've punched this 12:10 p.m."

"That's right," said the official. "A. m. means 'before noon,' doesn't it?"

"Of course."

"But if it's ten minutes past noon, it's p.m. There!" he grinned with delight at his own argumentative skill.

"But if you punch the 12 in the p.m. line that must mean midnight. Otherwise why do. you have a 12 in the a.m. line, too? Then if you punch 10 in the minute line, that means ten minutes past midnight; see?"

"Well," said the conductor; "that transfer's punched right, anyhow. The conductors used to quarrel so much with each other and with the passengers over that measly a.m. and p.m. business that the company at last ordered all the transfers to be punched allke—12:05 or 12:10 p.m."

"But just the same that transfer's wrong," said the passenger, "and so's the company."

"Second and Spring!" yelled the con-
